Dear members of the GSB,

the ALUMINIUM 2022 will take place from 27 to 29 September. Of course, we will also be there.

In today's issue you will find the most important information in a nutshell.

Your GSB Team

ALUMINIUM 2022

Every two years Düsseldorf becomes the centre of the aluminium industry. The world's leading trade fair ALUMINIUM (27 to 29 September 2022) covers the entire value chain around the material over three days, bringing together all the major international players in this industry as well as the most exciting SMEs and start-ups.

In 2022, ALUMINIUM will offer three special areas: a separate plaza for start-ups, an Innovation Plaza Additive Manufacturing & Digital Manufacturing and the Innovation Plaza Sustainability & Recycling. In addition, there will be the top-class ALUMINIUM Conference, where experts from industry and science will inform and debate about the most exciting developments and trends in the aluminium industry.

In the various Speakers Corners, exhibitors will present their latest solutions and technologies, including in the fields of lightweight technologies, e-mobility and additive manufacturing.

The content of ALUMINIUM 2022 will be guided by special focus topics, all of which are highly topical - and in which aluminium is playing an increasingly important role: New Mobility, Sustainability, Digitalisation, Additive and Digital Manufacturing, and Building and Construction.
