Obituary

Manfred Krämer, founder of Eloxalwerk Ehingen Krämer+Eckert GmbH+Co.KG and member of GSB International No. 37, passed away

The founder of the Eloxalwerk Ehingen, Manfred Krämer, passed away at the age of 83 years on Monday 15th June 2020 after a long time of illness.

In 1965 Krämer founded the company in the Berkacherstrasse together with his former business partner Herbert Krüger.

The Eloxalwerk Ehingen is a specialist for anodising and powder coating surfaces of aluminium.

After his business partner passed away, Manfred Krämer led the company as sole managing director until 1994. During this time he set the decisive course for the future and expanded the existing fabrication processes to powder coating. With entrepreneurial thinking he managed the company in Ehingen and also the subsidiary Eloxalwerk Weil der Stadt, founded by Krämer in 1972, so that both companies could develop into important partners of the metal and facade industry. Furthermore, the Eloxalwerk Weil der Stadt became an important supplier for the automotive industry.

In 2000, Manfred Krämer handed over the operative business to his son-in-law Josef Eckert and his daughter Kristina. In 2012 he also retired from all companies as partner and managing director. The companies are still managed by managing director Josef Eckert.

Since then, Manfred Krämer has remained associated with the companies as a mentor.

Manfred Krämer was an enthusiastic entrepreneur who lived with and for his companies.

Today the two companies employ 160 people in Ehingen and 90 in Weil der Stadt.

The Eloxalwerk Ehingen has been member of GSB International since 1986 with membership number 37 and the quality seal "Premium Coater Aluminium Sea Proof und Sea Proof Plus".

Until 2006, Manfred Krämer also managed the Adolf Krämer Metallveredelung in Ulm, which had been founded by his father Adolf Krämer in 1931. He left the company in 2015 due to his state of health.
