The board of the GSB International – who is part of it and what is the daily business of the board of a leading quality association in the field of coating aluminum and steel components?

Answers to this and other exciting questions will be given to the interested reader in the interview series “The members of the GSB board introduce themselves”.

There will be an interview with every member of the board and the interviews will be published on a regular basis. The first interview partner will be Mr. Rapp (STOBAG Alufinish).

Wilfried Rapp –
STOBAG Alufinish

Mr. Rapp, in an interview with someone who is active on the board of a leading quality association, it becomes obvious to begin by asking how you got started ...

STOBAG Alufinish is member of the GSB. On the penultimate meeting of members I was asked by two board members if I would like to participate. That motivated me very much and since last year I am active as a guest on the board.

So, you have been able to gain some experience. What inspires you about your voluntary work on the board of the GSB?

I am thrilled to be involved in setting the strategic course for the future of the association and to be able to shape the general conditions for the members.

I also see it as a great opportunity to contribute my experience with modern tools, for example from the field of digitalization.

... and what makes the GSB so unique for you personally?

100 % powder! The focus on this topic combined with the openness to tackle future topics in every field is simply unique.

Last but not least we come to the crucial question. The members of a quality association expect an advantage from their membership. What advantages does the GSB offer its members?

To put it casually, the GSB provides an extra piece of mind for all those involved in the coating process! The regulations concerning the quality and the process are formulated in such a way that quality capability is created and quality is made verifiable.

In addition the GSB offers reliability through the approval system when it comes to the topic of choosing third party providers and products in the field of coating powder and pretreatment.

Stay tuned for the next interview. The next interview partner will be Mr. Zegers (Alufinish).

Always in action. Mr. Rapp (center) with his colleagues in the factory.
