ALUMINIUM 2022

ALUMINIUM in Düsseldorf is the world's leading trade fair for the entire aluminium industry and its most important user industries. Every two years, the fair presents the entire value chain for the material - this is where the major international players meet the most exciting young companies in the industry.

A promotional banner for ALUMINIUM 2022. The top left features the "AL Aluminium Sharing a vision." logo. The main text reads "ALUMINIUM 2022." in large white letters, followed by "27 - 29 September 2022", "Exhibition Center Düsseldorf,", and "Germany". A circular call-to-action button on the right says "Click here and get your free ticket! Code: ALU2022_gsb". At the bottom, logos for "RX In the business of building businesses" and "Aluminium Deutschland EUROPEAN ALUMINIUM" are displayed.

The focus of the fair is on solutions for automotive engineering, mechanical engineering, building and construction, aerospace, electronics, packaging and transport. In 2022, the fair will be dominated by current focus topics in which aluminium plays a decisive and forward-looking role: New Mobility, Sustainability, Digitalisation, Additive and Digital Manufacturing, and Building and Construction.

In 2022, the fair will also offer a dedicated plaza for start-ups as well as the Innovation Plaza Additive Manufacturing & Digital Manufacturing. Also new this year is the Innovation Plaza Sustainability & Recycling, where aluminium will be presented as an ideal material for the circular economy. In 2022, ALUMINIUM will again be accompanied by a top-class conference, where experts from industry and science will inform and debate about the latest developments and trends in the aluminium industry.

In the various Speakers Corners, exhibitors will present their latest solutions and technologies, including in the areas of lightweight technologies, e-mobility and additive manufacturing. As the most important platform for the industry, ALUMINIUM Düsseldorf brings together producers, processors, end users and technology suppliers along the entire value chain from more than 100 countries.
